

DELEGATE SMITH IS HOPEFUL

Tells of Revolt of Many Republicans Against Joint Statehood Bill

The following letter which arrived on one of the delayed trains, was received by the editor of the Citizen from Delegate Smith on Saturday:

"House of Representatives
Washington, D. C., Jan. 6, 1906.

"My Dear Moore:—I have been so busy with the statehood bill in both House and Senate since my arrival in Washington that I have been forced to neglect much of my correspondence and other business, deeming that I could do Arizona no greater service than to give, for the time, my entire and undivided attention to the defeat if possible of the joint statehood bill. It was understood last week in the committee on territories that no bill would be reported to the House before the 15th of January. The democrats of the committee had a right to rely on these promises and did rely on them until this afternoon, when we were informed by the chairman of the committee that the bill had to be reported to the House by next Tuesday, on which day or the following the rule would be brought into the House from the committee on rules giving some time for debate, but cutting off all amendments to the bill on the floor of the House. This is the present program of the republican party. If they would permit an amendment on the floor, I have the promise of enough republican votes to strike Arizona and New Mexico from the bill. If they will not permit a vote on this amendment, they will pass the bill as it comes from the committee.

"If I can get the republicans who are opposed to this measure to vote against the adoption of the rule limiting debate and cutting off amendments, then the bill will come, like any other bill, before the House and we can force the amendment of it, pass the Oklahoma bill and leave Arizona and New Mexico out. If all who have promised will stand by their promises, we can defeat the bill in the House. I can hardly expect them to so stand against the blandishments and the bulldozing and the cajoling and the threats of the leaders of the House. The enormity of the crime of joining these two territories together shocks the decent sense of every man to whom the case is presented, and then they look at you innocently and say: 'Well, that is all true, and it is wrong; but I've got to do it because it is an administration measure.' If they had kept their promise to us to bring in a bill about the 15th of the month, I had every hope that we could defeat it in the House.

"If it passes the House and goes over to the Senate, it will there meet determined opposition, and I am assured by many prominent Senators on the republican side that they shall not pass the bill if they can help it, and certainly shall not pass it without a provision permitting Arizona a separate vote on the adoption of the constitution. This is the case, as I see it today. What changes may occur within an hour, nobody can safely conjecture.

Yours very truly,
"M. A. SMITH."

POLICE COURT.

A Fight, a Sick Man and a Sentence.
—The Star Boarder.

Douglas, Ariz., Jan. 16.—(Special.)—In the police court this morning Luis Urgaño was arraigned and fined $10 for smashing Francisco Reos over the head with a beer bottle on Saturday afternoon in the Mandolin Club saloon. Reos will be tried as soon as he is well enough to attend upon the sessions of the court. He is now under the care of the doctor, and doing his best to get cured of the cuts and bruises on his head.

Francisco Rodriguez got an order for ten days' board in the city jail for stealing a can of oil from the Lucas Grocery company. Francisco is what might be called the city's star boarder. He likes the place and as soon as he serves one sentence for petty larceny he repairs to the Lucas grocery store and steals enough to insure the court's issuing him another meal ticket. Why he shows this partiality to the Lucas Grocery company he will not explain, nor does he extend his patronage to any jail outside of Douglas. He appears to be a man who hates change and will stick to his favorite grocery company and to the city jail as long as they do the square thing by him.

WEDDING AT NOON.

Douglas, Ariz., Jan. 16.—(Special.)—Fred H. Berry, of the chemical department of the Copper Queen smelter, and Miss Berdie Shultz of Salina, Kansas, were married at the residence of Rev. Logie in Douglas at 12 o'clock today. The Rev. Logie performing the ceremony. The bride, accompanied by her brother, W. M. Berry, arrived this morning from Kansas. Mr. and Mrs. Berry will reside for the present at the home of Albert Schwartz, on Eleventh street.

GIANT SKELETONS FOUND IN SAN JOSE

BURYING GROUND OF A PRE-HISTORIC RACE IN CALIFORNIA BRICK YARD.

Finger Bones Three Times Natural Size and Other Remains in Proportion.—Stanford University Students Finds Made.

San Jose, Cal., Jan. 16.—Persons on foot and on horseback, in buggies and carts, automobiles and wagons made a constant stream of humanity today in and out of the little narrow lane which leads from the Keyes street road to the clay pit of the Remillard Brick company, in which has been discovered the mammoth burying ground of a pre-historic race.

The only systematic exploration that was allowed was conducted by a party of students under the leadership and direction of W. H. Merrill and E. Lamb of Stanford University. Those men succeeded after several hours in uncovering a giant skeleton, which, from its surroundings and isolation, was evidently that of a man of some prominence among the people of his time. As was the case with all the other skeletons uncovered, this one was covered over with a blanket of small stones to a depth of some six inches. In this case, however, the stones were of a bright hue, white, pink and reddish rocks having been picked out for the grave cap of the dead chief or whoever he may have been.

Over the center of the grave and beneath the covering of small stones was a large stone mortar or meal pot. It is of granite and ground perfectly smooth both out and inside. No pestle was found with this mortar, but near by was a long bladed knife of flint, the handle of which had evidently been bound with rawhide or deer thongs. The handle was in a fair state of preservation.

The bones of the skeleton were much larger than in that of the ordinary man, and indicated that the person in life was a veritable giant. For instance, the bones of the fingers found in a fair state of preservation were almost three times as large as are the hand bones of the average mortal.

Owing to lack of facilities for uncovering the ground and the inability of the explorers to skin off the top earth covering the bodies, the exploration of the burial ground is slow and unsatisfactory in most cases.

Perhaps the most important discovery made, outside of the skeletons themselves, was that by Alfred Bowen, the chief blacksmith in the employ of the brick company. Bowen, with the aid of some fellow employees, uncovered a plot of ground some feet in extent and laid bare what had evidently been the scene of a barbecue or feast. The remains of what had been a great camp fire were found. Near by were the bones of several beavers and a number of stone utensils.

Of all the bones which have been found no entire skeleton, which can be recognized as such, has been uncovered. Skulls, vertebrae, ribs, leg and arm bones have been found in almost countless numbers, but no entire skeleton has been laid bare at one time. Merrill and Lamb, who conducted the exploration yesterday and today, got out of the big bank in which they were working almost an entire skeleton. That is, there were the requisite number of bones, but they were taken out of the ground one by one and afterward assembled. Disintegration by the chemicals of the soil render it almost impossible to find an entire skeleton, but the careful work of the Stanford students gave the best results yet.

DOUGLAS NEWS NOTES.

Douglas, Ariz., Jan. 16.—(Special.)—Taken to Bisbee.—W. E. Watkins, who was hurt at the Copper Queen smelter last week and who has since been in the Calumet hospital in this city, was taken to the Bisbee hospital yesterday afternoon. Watkins, while making some repairs in one of the furnaces, was struck on the head by a large cinder, which fell from the stack of the furnace. It is feared that the injuries sustained are more serious than at first supposed.

Snow in the Mountains.—J. A. Le-wandowski, who returned Saturday from the Paradise district, says that the Chiricahua mountains are covered with snow and that work has been greatly retarded on that account. The roads are almost impassable and it is impossible to haul a load over them. The machinery for the Cochise concentrator is scattered between Rodeo and the mine, but none of it is moving now.

Cananea is Booming.—John D. Dowdle, who is interested with Frank Proctor in the cattle and beef business in Cananea, was in Douglas this morning on his way to the vicinity of Cos to purchase beef cattle, which, after being killed, will be driven to Cananea. Speaking of conditions in Cananea, Mr. Dowdle declared that the place is now having the greatest building boom in the history of the camp. It is limited only by the ability to get building material.

Many New Buildings.—Among the new buildings of large proportion soon to be in course of construction in this city, is one on the corner of Eleventh and G, for which the ground is being cleared today by the tearing away of wooden shacks; one on the site

POSTAL AUDITOR REPORTS

Showing for Arizona is Always Over that for New Mexico

The annual report of the auditor of the United States Postoffice department for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1905, is issued and gives some interesting figures to the people of Arizona, as well as to all the people of this great country.

The report shows by the increase in the postal business, the marvelous increase of population and business in the country at large, and it is confined to no section, territory or state, but is noted in all.

One important thing is shown that ought to have some bearing on the pending statehood legislation now before Congress, which seeks to unite Arizona and New Mexico in one state. It illustrates the difference in the masses of the people comprising the inhabitants of the two territories. New Mexico, with nearly twice the population of Arizona, has gross postoffice receipts at presidential postoffices, of $245,711.78, while Arizona, with about half the population, has gross receipts at the same class of postoffices of $176,827.77.

There are interesting items, too, in the receipts and expenditures in the various Arizona postoffices. Bisbee's gross receipts for the fiscal year were $17,060.18, and the postoffice expenses for clerk hire were $5,350. The gross receipts at Douglas were, for the same period, $13,240.83, and the expense for clerk hire was only $285.00; a creditable showing for the Douglas postmaster.

The largest receipts at any Arizona postoffice were $32,160.50 at Phoenix; and Prescott comes next with $17,731.04. Bisbee is a close third with $17,060.18, and Douglas is fourth with $13,240.83.

The total postal receipts for the fiscal year of 1905 are $152,826,585.10, and the expenditures were $167,181,959.75. The excess of expenditures over receipts is $14,355,374.64.

of the Ord hotel, the ground for which is being cleared—the First National Bank building; and a handsome brick rooming house to be erected on the present site of the livery stable now occupied by Reay & Johnson. It is also understood that two new buildings are to be erected on two vacant corners of Eighth and G.

W. W. Cunningham of Phoenix came in yesterday and returned to the territorial capital this afternoon.

Thomas Paxton, superintendent of machinery and motive power on the Southwestern, came in this morning from the west.

E. B. Velikanje and wife, of Campas, came in yesterday and are staying at the Roy. Mr. Velikanje is here to meet eastern stockholders and directors in his company.

H. C. Beauchamp, Theo. Foucar and

Luis J. Houck, all of Cincinnati, Ohio, are in the city and are stopping at the Roy. They are stockholders in the Transvaal Mining company and may leave tomorrow for Campas, Sonora.

ANOTHER WONDER OF SCIENCE.

Biology has Proved that Dandruff is Caused by a Germ.

Science is doing wonders these days in medicine as well as in mechanics. Since Adam lived, the human race has been troubled with dandruff, for which no hair preparation has heretofore proved a successful cure until Newbro's Hairicide was put on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff or scurf by digging into the scalp to get at the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality, causing itching scalp, falling hair, and finally baldness. Without dandruff hair must grow luxuriantly. It is the only destroyer of dandruff. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

CURED LUMBAGO

A. B. Canman, Chicago, writes Mar. 4, 1905: "Having been troubled with Lumbago, at different times and tried one physician after another, then different ointments and liniments, gave it up altogether. So I tried once more, and got a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment, which gave me almost instant relief. I can cheerfully recommend it, and will add my name to your list of sufferers."
